

San Francisco Atheists-- November Meeting & News

This month we honor the late, great Dr. Carl Sagan with a showing of an episode from his award-winning TV series, Cosmos. November 9, Sagan's birthday, is celebrated internationally in recognition of his many contributions to astronomy, space exploration, science education, environmentalism, and more. The 13-episode Cosmos series first aired on PBS in 1980, and remains one of the most widely-watched series in the world. Join us in viewing an episode of Cosmos, with discussion to follow.

Saturday November 26

Schroeder's Restaurant, 240 Front Street, SF, rear dining room

Meet at 4:30 pm to eat, drink & socialize. Program will begin around 5 pm.

Near the Embarcadero BART & Muni station. Parking available on the street or at the nearby Embarcadero Center.

Save the date! Instead of our monthly meeting, next month we will hold our annual Winter Solstice Party on December 17. No lectures, just friends, food, drinks and music to mark the change of seasons. More details soon.

'Child Sacrifice', continued-- if you missed our October program, or attended but wish to view the missing slide presentation (our apologies--misplaced a cable), our speaker Rick Hillegas has posted links to both his slides and a video-recording of his talk here. (thanks Rick & Valery!)

If you are planning to attend the Reason Rally secular gathering in Washington, D.C. on March 24, 2012, check the website for airline and hotel discounts, downloadable fliers to print and distribute, and much more: <http://reasonrally.org/>
