

San Francisco Atheists

This month we are honored to feature the new independent documentary, Contradiction: The Movie, as part of its national premier tour. Producer and director Jeremiah Camara, along with atheist comedian Steve Hill, will join us to present the film, which follows Camara as he travels the country examining the paradox of black neighborhoods saturated with churches while plagued with violence and poverty. Examining the possible connection between high-praise and low-productivity, Contradiction creates a historical and cultural context to better understand the effects of religion on modern society and the role of the black church. Sunday Assembly is coming to the U.S.! This London-born monthly godless gathering has taken off in New York, and plans are underway in many other cities. Inspiring us to "live better, help often, and wonder more", Sunday Assembly offers music, singing, community, and inspiring talks for the whole family. Sign up at Eventbrite to express your interest in attending a Bay Area SA. Volunteers are needed to help make this happen-- if you have the enthusiasm and skills, please contact sundayassemblysf@gmail.com.
